Red Sea Bulletin & Red Sea Pages

Red Sea Bulletin & Red Sea Pages are the perfect combination of printed and internet media.

The popular publication, Red Sea Bulletin, has been issued since 1998 and addresses residents with high purchasing power as well as tourists with reasonable holiday budgets that enjoy exploring the Red Sea.

Red Sea Pages (www.redseapages.com) went online with its first release in 2006. Then subsequently came out in a completely new version mid 2015 to be the most comprehensive and informative internet portal for the Red Sea mainland.

Red Sea Bulletin & Red Sea Pages spans from El Gouna to Marsa Alam to present useful information about events, restaurants, cafés, pubs & bars, discotheques, hotels, shops, entertainment, sports, activities, education, health care, real estate, legal and tax consultancy. It includes, as well, interesting articles, city maps, and free classifieds and telephone listings. Both Red Sea Bulletin & Red Sea Pages represent an outstanding marketing platform that offers a unique and attractive combination of traditional and modern promotional tools. The platform makes available unlimited possibilities in printed and electronic media, including informative display on the internet portal redseapages.com, social networks and e-campaigns.

Through participation in international exhibitions, massive distribution and global reach Red Sea Bulletin & Red Sea Pages provides the best way to promote your business.

Red Sea Bulletin

Red Sea Bulletin

Red Sea Bulletin's news section, Across the Red Sea, informs readers in short topics and pictures about notable events in the area. Companies and venues showcase through their inserts what the Red Sea and surrounding areas have to offer. The articles report about new archeological discoveries, desert or sea adventures, interesting facts, people and the great Egyptian history. The reader can find information about day activities, nightlife, public bus schedules to / from Cairo, Alex, Upper Egypt, and a telephone directory of important numbers of the area. There are classifieds, maps and topics about events in Egypt and worldwide.

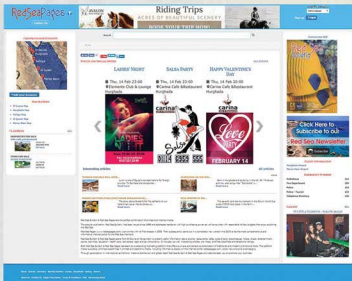

The "Where 2 Go" section guides to the best restaurants, cafés, pubs, lounges, clubs and discotheques. The classifieds lead readers to discover opportunities to buy or rent cars, flats and villas, where to find lawyers, medical services, and so much more.

Red Sea Bulletin is distributed free of charge with a circulation of 5,000 copies per issue to tourists & residents through public places, selected distribution points as well as delivered to many companies & hotels. Red Sea Bulletin is available online and all issues from July/August 2012 can be downloaded as PDFs (<http://redseapages.com/red-sea-bulletin>). Daily up-to-date information is available on our Facebook pages & groups, Google Plus, LinkedIn, Twitter and Pinterest.

The estimated number of readers is over 300,000 throughout the year.

Many readers still love to hold a printed magazine in their hands, turn the pages, read articles and go through the contents printed on paper rather than on a screen, but more and more people, especially the younger generation prefers computers and mobile devices to gather information.

The internet portal www.redseapages.com and related social media platforms is a perfect match with the printed media of Red Sea Bulletin.

Red Sea Pages

Red Sea Bulletin followed the trend and established www.redseapages.com in 2006. The latest addition of the website was published in a completely new version August of 2015. It is the most advanced informative platform for the Red Sea mainland that displays all events of the Red Sea to include city maps, articles of interest, flight information for Hurghada and Marsa Alam airports, daytime activities, nightlife, best restaurants, cafés, lounges, bars, discotheques, and much more.

Redseapages.com contains tremendous information about the Red Sea region. Heart of the system is the Red Sea Directory which connects you with over 3000 registered companies. Red Sea Pages compliments the Red Sea Bulletin in a perfect way. It shows more information than published in Red Sea Bulletin with the advantage of having no limitation in space like printed pages have, and can be updated daily.

All sponsors of the Red Sea Bulletin are equally promoted at redseapages.com and connected to the Facebook pages and other social media. Select the right combination from the Red Sea Bulletin, the internet portal www.redseapages.com and connected social media as your gateway to the Red Sea.
